national politics, but as regards the very existence of the State of West low-citizens this was all a dream. The Virginia. We quoted a morning or two since an expression from a written card of a candidate for the legislature in Greenbrier county, in which the author avowed himself as not only opposed to the Test Oath, passed last winter, but as also opposed, as he ex-pressly said, "to the State of West Virginia." Of course such a candidate canme a member of our legislature, even if elected, for, as a preliminary, he must swear to support the constitution of West Virginia, and that constitutation prescribes in the very first sentence of the very first section of the very first article, that "the State of West Virginia shall be and remain one of the United States of America." Yet the Greenbrier candidate is but one of many such candidates who would be glad to offer themselves, and, perhaps, one of many who, according as they find encouragement, will offer themselves. The party calling itself "demo cratic" in this State opposed the forma tion of the new State, and, candidly speaking, we believe that the leaders of it, together with many followers, would willingly recross the Red sea to-n and become again the Israelitish bonds men of the Egyptians, if they could successfully raise, in their opinion, the reactionary flag. We have always an-ticipated some such movement, and we are not at all surprised to see men who have been in the rebellion, and others who sympathized with it, together with some who were indifferent, intimating a desire to get back into the old State. In the eyes of such men West Virginia is hopelessly committed to the Union cause and the Union party, and therefore holds out anything but a flattering political prospect to leaders and followers whose sympathies have not been identified with that cause and that party during the war. They naturally seek affinity with the ma-jority, and the majority of their kind are only to be found in the old State.

are only to be found in the old State.

We have before us the last issue of the Lexington, (Rockbridge county) Gazette, and the Richmond Whig, both of which contain articles on West Va. and both of which advocate a re-union. In an "economic" point of view they both think it highly desirable that the New State should merge its brief existence with the state of the story of the begar in the old commonwealth. The idea is not the story of the begar in the state of continuous and seri manners proposed to go in partnership with Robachild. It is thought that in an "economic" point of view it mounts of the story of the legar who will be a very desirable partnership, that in an "economic" point of view it mounts of the story of both of which advocate a re-union. But luckily for our Democratic fellow-citizens this was all a dresm. The negro still lives to furnish capital for their party, and the patriotic statesmen who slew themselves in Nasby's vision still live to cheer and to console the party.

Election Returns.

We see by the Parkersburg Times that Hon. E. S. Mahon is elected to the Senate, and is well known for hundred votes. Mr. Mahon is an ex-member of the Senate, and is well known for his unconditional and uncompromising Unionism and through the war. He had the sympathy of a decided majority of our Union people in Wood, Jackson, Wirt, Roame, Calhoun and Gilmer, notwithstanding Mr. Brown received the nomination over him in the Parkersburg Convention, Haves believed to have been entitled to the nomination by reason of his services and his record. Hence his triumph now at the polls.

The chies and towns are especially sul-fering from the vast crowds of indolent freedinen, certainly without "visible means of support," and apparently ut-terly indifferent as to their future con-dition, who have flocked from the neighboring farms and plantations.— Richmond and Alexandria seem to be Richmond and Alexandria seem to be in the imagination of the rural freedmen, the Mecca and Jerusalem to be sought as the goal of all African aspiration. The negro population of Richmond is now much larger than ever before, and still the dark cloud of immigration sets steadily in from all the surrounding counties.
